About myself

I was born on July the 12th, 1992, in Galdakao (Bizkaia), I studied in the public school there, and later in high school. During those years I discovered my aptitudes, I learned arts and swimming, sport I practice in a daily basis. I come from a family of mathematicians, it was a great background that built my interest for science, reason for which I decided to take the degree in Aeronautics.

During these first years of study, my interests shifted towards the field of Computer Science and since then my fondness on informatics has grown bigger, I want it to play a fundamental role in my professional career.
